Delmarva Christian High School in Georgetown, DE Contributes a Day of Caring to Children's Beach House

November 04, 2010 ~ Lewes, Delaware: Young people usually love a day off from school. On Thursday, November 4th, when all schools in Sussex County were closed for Return Day, the students of Delmarva Christian High School reported to Children's Beach House for a "Day of Caring." Over 150 students and faculty pitched in cleaning windows, scrubbing tiles, pulling weeds, organizing cabinets and so on.

"It was a delight to come and assist in some of the various jobs inside and out at your beautiful facility," stated Eddy Jones, Teacher at Delmarva Christian High School. "We strive to instill in our students the attitude of looking beyond themselves and offering themselves as "living sacrifices" both to the Lord and others in His name. Return Day was just one more opportunity for us to return to our community a spirit of serving others."

Following a hard morning's work, the student body and faculty were treated to a BBQ lunch courtesy of Children's Beach House. Even though the rain put a bit of a damper on the day, there were plenty of smiles and good spirits throughout Children's Beach House on this wonderful "Day of Caring."
